

Keep Britain Beautiful

Britain's architectural heritage is one of the nation's greatest assets. The Georgian period gave us some of our most beautiful buildings. Yet our Georgian heritage faces a daily battle to survive. Demolitions, ugly extensions, unsympathetic alterations and neglect all pose serious threats to the historic architecture and atmosphere of our villages, towns and cities.

The Georgian Group is the charity dedicated to preserving Georgian buildings and gardens. Each year we are consulted on over 6,000 planning applications involving demolition or alterations. We are not opposed to change, but our intervention has helped protect many buildings from unsympathetic alterations. It is often through our influence that a better solution is found.

But it is vital that we do more, and we need your help.

You can make a difference

You can help us to preserve and enhance our Georgian heritage by joining The Georgian Group today. As well as receiving benefits, your membership will help fund our continued work and influence planning policies for the better.

For just £40 a year your membership gives you:

The Georgian – our members' magazine with news, articles and prize competitions

Our annual Journal – the leading compendium of academic research on 18th century architecture

Exclusive opportunities to visit Georgian houses and gardens not open to the public

Access to a private clubroom in Fitzroy Square, central London, allowing you to relax, view exhibitions and consult our extensive reference library

General help and advice for the Georgian homeowner

Varied and specialist events programme with lectures, study days and overseas trips

Young Georgian membership for younger members, with dedicated events and social activities

It takes the equivalent of just over £3 a month to help protect our Georgian heritage. Join us today.
